Subject:	CU #150880/Galloway Deposition

I received a notice from you today of a deposition that you re-noticed for Mr. Clinton Galloway for August 18th, 2008. I had received a courtesy copy of a letter sent to to you by Mr. Galloway notifying you of the untimely service of a previous deposition subpoena and his requesting that you contact him to arrange a mutually agreeable date.

I received no notice from you of the date you presumably agreed upon with Mr. Galloway and I had no contact from Mr. Galloway about the matter. Did you in fact arrange such date with Mr. Galloway?

I think not. I know that Mr. Galloway is aware that I have an upcoming trial set for August 18th, 2008 and I find it hard to believe that Mr. Galloway would have not been considerate of my schedule.

With that said, again you are informed for at least the fourth or fifth time that I am not available for such date due to my being in trial in Monterey, California in the case of Forte v. Lichtenegger, M58208. Since I am in pro per it is imperative that I attend the deposition of Mr. Galloway and other witnesses..

I was unable to make contact today with Mr. Galloway to see if you had cleared the date with him and properly served him with the Notice of his deposition.

Could you please fax to me proof of service of the re-noticed deposition upon Mr. Galloway.

Quite frankly, I have not heard the term re-notice before and don't quite understand what it means.

Thanks.
