I am in receipt of your fax and phone message. Once again you are informed that I am not available for any deposition dates prior to the August 18th, 2008 trial that I am preparing for. Your conduct is vexatious in willfully not comprehending such a simple fact.

You did not clear dates with me in advance of your arbitrarily setting August 11th, 2008 notwithstanding the fact that you had been noticed and informed on multiple occasions of my trial commitment.

It was you that squawked to high heavens about my setting the deposition date of Mr. Jones without checking with your schedule (even though you are a multi-manned law firm that could have had any one of your other attorneys attend) and forced me to make a motion to the court to get dates from you.

I am more than willing to provide deposition dates to you in September that do not conflict with the depositions already scheduled which I had recently served and will be noticing you of.

A Motion to Amend the complaint was filed and served by mail to you earlier today.

I have not yet received from you the service of the deposition notice upon Mr. Galloway for August 18th, 2008. Please provide it (or didn't you serve him?).

Thank you.
